Brief introduction of your research experience: I am working in the field of heat exchanger more than six years. Basically, my research is focused on improvement of existing exchanger using novel methods. I have more than twelve research papers in reputed journals like Elsevier, Springer, Inderscience and other respectable publishers across the globe. I have two books/monographs with Springer briefs. Presently, I am working with Elsevier for four book chapters based on broad theme” advanced control techniques for energy systems with heat exchangers”. There are few research articles in the pipeline and some articles are under review. I worked as a reviewer for Elsevier journal (Renewable energy focus) two times. I also worked as a scientific committee member for international conference (energy research) held at abroad in the year 2017.
